A brownie or broonie (), also known as a brùnaidh or gruagach (Scottish Gaelic), is a household spirit from Scottish folklore that is said to come out at night while the owners of the house are asleep and perform various chores and farming tasks. The human owners of the house must leave a bowl of milk or cream or some other offering for the brownie, usually by the hearth.

Long, long ago in a place far away, three young orphan girls choose a different path in life than washing floors, doing laundry, and cooking meals. Determined to take control of their own destinies, they commit themselves to a quest filled with danger, adventure, evil villains and beautiful friends. Their goal is nothing short of proving to the world that girls can be heroes too. In this combination of Books 1 & 2, the Three Lady Knights face challenges that not only threaten their lives, but that seek to rip apart the one thing that they hold most dear—the bonds of deepest friendship.

When their stockings get mixed up while being washed one Christmas Eve, a group of animal friends manage to sort out the gifts left by Santa Claus.
