'The Voice in the Night' was written about 1907. I read it for the first time when I was a teenager. I reread it today. I still remains a very well written short horror story. A ship is becalmed in the Pacific Ocean. Two sailors are hailed by a strange voice from the night. The strange person asks for some food. The sailors float out some provisions.

#1 New York Times bestselling author Dean Koontz gives a new meaning to “blood brothers” in this chilling novel of friendship gone awry... No one could understand why Colin and Roy were best friends. Colin was so shy; Roy was so popular. Colin was nervous around girls; Roy was a ladies’ man. Colin was fascinated by Roy—and Roy was fascinated by death. Then one day Roy asked his timid friend: “You ever killed anything?” And from that moment on, the two were bound together in a game too terrifying to imagine...and too irresistible to stop.

Astonishing True Story of the Miracles That Are Changing Africa Born into a long line of witch doctors, Surprise ("Surpresa") Sithole was destined for a life of fear, oppression, and poverty in the jungles of Africa. But at the age of fifteen, he was awakened in the middle of the night by an unfamiliar voice. Urgent, but not harsh, it told him to get up and leave his family immediately. As Surprise stepped out into the night, away from everything dear to him, he had no idea who God was--or what he had in store for him. From miraculous signs and wonders to the 1963 Japanese film "Matango". It also appeared in Alfred Hitchcock's paperback anthology "Alfred Hitchcock Presents: Stories They Wouldn't Let Me Do on TV". William Hope Hodgson (1877 - 1918) was an English author that produced essays and novels, that mixes horror, fantastic fiction and science fiction. Hodgson used his experiences at sea to his short stories, many of which are set on the ocean. Hodgson's single most famous story is probably "The Voice in the Night", where a fisherman's aboard a ship in the North Pacific, on night watch in a fog-bank, hears a voice call out from the sea. The that highlight the aspirations of the human spirit. Beloved for the lens of the strange he places on small town life, Steven Millhauser further reveals in Voices in the Night the darkest parts of our inner selves to brilliant and dazzling effect. Here are stories of wondrously imaginative hyperrealism, stories that pose unforgettably unsettling what-ifs, or that find barely perceivable evils within the safe boundaries of our towns, homes, and even within our bodies. Here, too, are stories culled from religion and fables: Samuel, who hears the voice of God calling him in the night; a Haughty psychiatrist Dr. Morelle returns in "The Case of the Voice in the Night."

This early work by William J. Wintle was originally published in 1921 and we are now republishing it as part of our Cryptofiction Classics series. 'The Voice in the Night' is a short story about a mysterious presence that materialises after dark. Wintle started writing in his thirties, and during the early part of the 20th century produced two much-circulated essays: "Life in Our New Century" (1901) and "Can You Explain It? True Stories of the Ghost World" (1903). Later, he turned to fiction, producing a number of well-remembered stories, including "The Red Rosary", "When the Twilight Fell", "The House on the Cliff", "The Ghost at the Blue Dragon", "The Spectre Spiders", "The Footsteps on the Stairs", "The Chamber of Doom", "When Time Stood Still", and "The Black Cat". These and others were collected in a 1921 collection entitled Ghost Gleams. Wintle died in 1934, aged 73. The Cryptofiction Classics series contains a collection of wonderful stories from some of the greatest authors in the genre, including
