A violin journal can/should be structured according to your particular needs. Here I will share what I keep track of in my journal: Current musical and technical goals, updated regularly. Include performance opportunities and dates. A “setlist” of my practice time, the pieces, etudes and scales that I incorporate in my session

A practice journal looks at more of the details of your session. In addition to tracking the amount of time you practice, you also track things like your goals for the session, what went well, what didn't go well, and what you plan to practice in your next session. A basic journal can be made from any old notebook and a practice page should include:
